The major rule under GI legislation is that wine must be made from a minimum of 85% fruit/grapes from the GI region/zone that is declared on the label. Australian GI’s are classified into the States, Zones (parts of States); Regions (parts of Zones); and Sub-regions (parts of Regions).

Tasmania, Northern Territory and Australian Capital Territory are classified as whole State/Zones.